

VUSC 0205: Emotional and Social Engagement

This course will center around developing those qualities where everyone feels their voices are heard. Since all of life is relational, the better our relations with each other, the better our lives. Emotions are a fundamental driver of behavior so students will develop those skills that help them engage better with their peers in social settings. Regular channels of communication will be established and the value of each person will be of utmost priority in this course.

Discipline: VUnited Scholars

Clock Hours per Week: 1

Military Price: $24,543.75